

JOKKMOKK

ACCOMMODATION

winter 2023/2024

Welcome!

Jokkmokk Municipality is Sweden's second largest municipality in terms of area, which means there are plenty of different environments to choose from. From the mountains and national parks in the west, to the ancient forests, river valleys and urban areas in the east.

There are also many types of accommodation, from tent pitches and simple self-catering cabins, to exclusive adventure accommodation and hotels offering a full service with every kind of amenity you might need.

There's plenty of space and something for everyone, whether you're a thrill-seeking mountain adventurer or holidaying with young children.

We look forward to welcoming you to Jokkmokk!

Fishing in Jokkmokk

If you're interested in fishing in Jokkmokk Municipality, it's likely you'll need to buy a fishing licence, and there are several different licences for different parts of the Municipality. The licence that covers the largest area is the County Administrative Board's mountain fishing licence - Jokkmokkskortet - which gives you access to a number of lakes and watercourses above the agricultural boundary.

Jokkmokkskortet can be purchased online at <https://natureit.se> or from one of the following retailers: Tourist information in Jokkmokk, Turistcenter in Gällivare, STF's mountain station in Kvikkjokk or STF's mountain station in Ritsem. The county Administrative Board's Jokkmokkskortet comes in a number of different alternatives: 24 hours, 72 hours, one week and annual licence. The annual licence can include accompanying family members (partner and/or children living at home over the age of 16) for an additional fee. Children under 16 years of age can fish free of charge if accompanied by a parent or guardian who has purchased a fishing licence. The annual licence is valid for the current calendar year.

Jokkmokks Jakt- och Fiskevårdsförening (hunting and fishing association) offers another fishing licence for watercourses in Jokkmokk's surrounding area. A tourist fishing licence for short periods: 24 hours, 72 hours or one week and also an annual licence that includes membership of the association. These licences can be purchased from the association's office in Jokkmokk, or at Jokkmokk Tourist Information. They are also sold at <https://www.ifiske.se>

In addition to the above licences there are also several village or cooperative associations that have fishing licences for individual lakes. If you would like further information about fishing and fishing licences in Jokkmokk Municipality, there is a mapservice that provides details of various fishing grounds in the municipality. It also tells you what fish are found there, which licence you need for the various watercourses and where to buy them.

You can access the fishing map at <https://fiskeapp.jokkmokk.se> or by scanning the QR code in the image below using your mobile phone.

JOKKMOKKS MARKNAD

Jokkmokk's market has a long history and is regarded as an unbroken tradition that has existed for more than 400 years. Fixed market places near the Sami's winter settlements were established by the Swedish monarchy in the early 17th century in all Lapland areas on both sides of the Bothnian Bay.

The aim was to strengthen the state's grip on the population in the north, collect taxes, hold assemblies called things (ting) to solve disputes and make political decisions, and spread the word of God. A market in the Lapland region during the coldest part of the year had many advantages.

The Sami had gathered in their winter settlements in forest areas with winter pasture for their reindeer, and the frozen watercourses became excellent routes for merchants, civil servants and clergymen.

Jokkmokk's Market, which has become a natural meeting place, has developed into one of northern Europe's largest winter festivities with many different activities and events. Market trading constitutes the heart of the market. The streets in the centre of the community are closed and filled with market traders and visitors full of anticipation who can buy everything from traditional market sweets to reindeer meat and top-quality handicrafts.

In keeping with tradition, the market always starts on the first Thursday of February and lasts for three intensive days. You can experience reindeer racing competitions, art exhibitions, snowmobile and dog sled tours, concerts, lectures, tasty local food and trading both outdoors and indoors. There are usually about 200 different items on the programme during the whole week.

Welcome to Jokkmokk's Market where you can experience real winter and unforgettable encounters!

www.jokkmokksmarknad.se

Jokkmokk Municipality is Sweden's second-largest municipality in terms of area. The same size as the provinces of Skåne, Blekinge and Halland combined. With 4,800 inhabitants, this means that there is plenty of space for both visitors and people who want to move here. The area has a wealth of environments with opportunities for memorable experiences all year round. From the massive mountains in the Padjelanta, Sarek and Stora Sjöfallet national parks to the west, to the old-growth forests in the Ultevis nature reserve and Muddus national park – and onwards to the bustle of small towns such as Jokkmokk, Vuollerim, Murjek, Kåbdalis and Porjus in the eastern part of the municipality.

Jokkmokk is also a central location in the Swedish part of the Sápmi region. It includes the Swedish Mountain and Sami Museum Ájtte, the Sami handicrafts foundation Sameslöjdstiftelsen Sámi Duodji, the Sami education centre Samernas Utbildningscentrum – and plenty of different forms of artisan and reindeer husbandry companies. The largest part of the municipality is also north of the Arctic Circle, which means that we have midnight sun for a few weeks in summer and recurring northern lights during clear late-autumn and winter evenings.
